

FSES CU Courses offered in English in Academic Year 2023/2024 - preliminary list, minor changes can occur

Master level courses

Winter Semester

Code	Course	Credits	Short Description	Lecturer	Study Programme
FSEV.ÚEŠMV/2-UES-950/22	European Union in Political and Public Discourse	6	After successful passing of the course European Union in Political and Public Discourse students will be able to understand political and socio-cultural processes in the EU.	doc. PhDr. Olga Gyarfášová, PhD.	European Studies
FSEV.ÚEŠMV/2-UES-670/22	Geopolitics of the Outer Space: An European Perspective	6	Students will gain information in the area of International space law regarding regulations, norms, principles and implementation in specific research areas.	Mgr. Bibiana Wertlen, PhD.	European Studies
FSEV.ÚEŠMV/2-UES-790/22	Quantitative Research Methods	6	The course presents a practical experience how to conduct quantitative research in political science.	doc. PhDr. Andrej Findor, PhD.; Mgr. Matúš Sloboda, PhD.	European Studies + Public Policy
FSEV.ÚEŠMV/2-UES-230/22	International Humanitarian Law	6	Student will be able to: Identify the basic principles of international humanitarian law, and their sources, and understand how they are monitored and enforced.	doc. JUDr. PhDr. Lucia Mokrá, PhD.	European Studies
FSEV.ÚEŠMV/2-UES-110/22	International Law	6	Students will gain knowledge of the international law system, particular in international public law.	doc. JUDr. PhDr. Lucia Mokrá, PhD., Mgr. Bibiana Wertlen, PhD.	European Studies
FSEV.ÚEŠMV/2-UES-910/22	Advanced Academic Writing Seminar	6	The course aims to strengthen students' understanding of diverse approaches to writing and training of writers.	Mgr. Jakub Csabay	European Studies
FSEV.ÚEŠMV/2-UES-930/22	Political Economy of the European Union	6	Students will gain knowledge of conceptual and analytical tools necessary for understanding the creation and functioning of the economic policies of the European Union	Radovan Geist, PhD.	European Studies
FSEV.ÚEŠMV/2-UES-390/22	Crises, Turbulences and Differentiated Integration: The Politics of Contemporary European	6	Students become familiar with major contemporary debates taking place in the EU. They will learn how to analytically grasp concepts that accompany the EU integration processes at national as well as supranational level of governance, like for instance: the democratic governance, core state powers, supranational vs. intergovernmental dynamics, EU's actors, etc.	Mgr. Matej Navrátil, PhD.	European Studies
FSEV.ÚEŠMV/2-UES-640/22	Policies of Gender Equality	6	The aim of the course is to get familiar with gender equality concepts and theoretical background, as well as tools how to implement them in public policy.	Zuzana Očenášová, PhD.	European Studies
FSEV.ÚEŠMV/2-UES-810/16	Regionalism and Global Order	6	The students should master the key concepts (world order, region, regionalism) and their most common theoretical interpretations	Maksym Khylyk, PhD., Olena Khylyk, PhD.	European Studies
FSEV.ÚEŠMV/2-UES-920/22	Justice and Equality: Modern Political Philosophy	6	Students learn basic facts and frameworks of modern political philosophy and will be able to build up critical explorations of key topics in modern political philosophy pertaining to social justice and equality	Mgr. Pavol Hardoš, M.A., PhD.	European Studies
FSEV.ÚEŠMV/2-UES-940/22	Contemporary Challenges: Greening of the EU Policies	6	The students will gain more complex perspective on the EU green policies, primarily through the understanding of the process and outcomes of the EU green policymaking in policy sectors that are not traditionally associated with the climate agenda.	Mgr. Donald Wertlen, PhD.	European Studies
FSEV.ÚEŠMV/2-UES-740/22	Statistical Analysis 2	6	Students will develop their own research group project (groups of 3) in three deliverables using real datasets.	Ing. Jakub Szabó, PhD.	European Studies
FSEV.ÚEŠMV/2-UES-010/22	Foreign Policy of the EU	6	The course EU Foreign Policy is focused the development and current functioning of the EU policy making in its External relations.	doc. JUDr. PhDr. Lucia Mokrá, PhD.	European Studies
FSEV.ÚEŠMV/2-UES-170/22	Foreign Policy of Slovakia	6	Students will gain knowledge about key factors that constitute current foreign policy of Slovakia.	Mgr. Andrea Figulová, PhD.	European Studies to be updated	US Foreign Policy	6	As a result of completing the course "U.S. Foreign Policy", students will be able to explain principles and traditions of American Foreign Policy, how it is made and implemented, and how U.S. foreign policy has been applied in the world and European context. Moreover, they will be able to identify and critically analyze core current issues of American Foreign Policy and its Grand Strategy. The students will also be able to develop their skills in understanding, analyzing and interpreting academic texts, formulating relevant arguments and presenting them in front of the audience.	Katerina Kasatkina, PhD.	European Studies to be updated	Hybrid Threats and Information Operations in International Relations: a European Perspective	3	The course aims to provide students with an understanding of the concept of hybrid threats, the historical and current use of activities constituting hybrid threats with a specific focus on information operations and their role in IR. Particular attention will be paid to public policies adopted in this area at level of the EU and in its Member States.	JUDr. Daniel Milo, Samuel Krajiňák M.A., MSc.	European Studies
FSEV.ÚVP/mVP-830/22	Public Policy Analysis	6	After successful completion of the course, students are able to understand the essence of evidence-based policy making and knowledge in terms of practical activities carried out by experts, consultants, officials, advisors.	Doc. Katarína Staroňová, PhD.	Public Policy
Summer Semester
FSEV.ÚEŠMV/2-UES-970/22	Security Studies	6	Students will deepen their knowledge in specific areas of international relations: security studies, especially from the implementation perspective.	Shane Markowitz, PhD.	European Studies
FSEV.ÚEŠMV/2-UES-540/22	Qualitative Research Methods	6	The course aims to clarify the fundamentals of scholarship and its relevance to political science, including public policy and administration.	Mgr. Jakub Csabay	European Studies
FSEV.ÚEŠMV/2-UES-840/22	International Human Rights Protection	6	Students will deepen their knowledge of the system of protection of human rights from an international perspective, with special regard to the regulation of the rights of specific groups of the population.	doc. PhDr. JUDr. Lucia Mokrá, PhD.	European Studies
FSEV.ÚEŠMV/2-UES-220/22	Migration in Context	6	Upon completion of the course, students will have knowledge on the main determinants of immigration policies and core theoretical frameworks.	Mgr. Clarissa do Nascimento Tabosa, PhD.	European Studies
FSEV.ÚEŠMV/2-UES-700/22	Political Representation	3	Students will develop knowledge of the concept of political representation, both through a historical and a conceptual lens.	Mgr. Pavol Hardoš, M.A., PhD.	European Studies
FSEV.ÚEŠMV/2-UES-170/19	The Politics of Collective Memory	6	The course provides critical exploration of key issues and challenges related to the politics of memory in a globalized world.	Mgr. Zuzana Maďarová, M.A., PhD.	European Studies
FSEV.ÚEŠMV/2-UES-720/22	Development Studies: Theory and Practice	6	The course will equip students with essential knowledge and toolkit to understand, analyse and engage with key theories, issues, and practice in the fields of development studies and international development	Jakub Csabay, MPhil.	European Studies
FSEV.ÚEŠMV/2-UES-980/22	Sectoral Policies EU in Practice	6	The objective of the course is to share with students experience with the practical functioning of sectoral policies.	doc. PhDr. Olga Gyarfášová, PhD. + external collaborators	European Studies
FSEV.ÚEŠMV/2-UES-610/22	Contemporary IR Theories	6	Students become familiar with major contemporary ways of theorizing international relations and world politics.	Mgr. Matej Navrátil, PhD.	European Studies
FSEV.ÚEŠMV/2-UES-730/22	Statistical Analysis 1	6	Students will be able to manage, visualize and analyze their data using the R programming language	Ing. Jakub Szabó, PhD.	European Studies to be updated	Eastern Europe in World Politics	6	Students will gain knowledge about key factors defining development in the Eastern European region, interests and policy of the EU and other major actors in the region as well as related challenges and opportunities for Slovakia and the EU in general	Maksym Khylyk, PhD., Olena Khylyk, PhD.	European Studies to be updated	History and Politics of the Modern Middle East	3	The course aims to familiarize the students with the major historical and political developments in the modern Middle East and to introduce them to the current challenges and prospective scenarios in the region. The students will learn to critically evaluate the major issues connected with the formation of the modern Middle East and the impact these had on the present-day situation in the region. Additionally, the course will help the students improve their reading, analytical and argumentation skills through assignments and participation in class discussions.	Mgr. Michaela Granžayová, PhD.	European Studies

FSEV.ÚVP/2-mVP-300/22	Human Resources management in Public Sector	6	The course focuses on HR Resources management in Public sector via the lense of various administrative cultures.	Doc. Katarína Staroňová, PhD.	Public Policy
FSEV.USA/1-USA113/22 USA-113/2	Ethnography of Power and Livelihood	8	The objective of this course is to discuss ethnographic approaches to power and livelihood by articulating the analysis of classic texts (ethnographies, power and livelihood, particularly in Africa and the Middle East) and the study of ethnographic documentary film. .	Yazid Ben Hounner	Social Antropology