13th Conference and Workshop in Community Psychology in Slovakia 2026

Workshops and booths — information for organisations for WEB

Who can apply

We invite community and non-profit organisations, institutions, initiatives and informal groups whose work relates to community psychology — for example organisations working in mental health, prevention, social services, with marginalised or vulnerable groups, in education, in participation and civic engagement, or in community development.

What you can do at the conference

- Host a booth — a dedicated space in the venue where you present your work, share materials and talk to participants, for example through a short activity.
- Run a workshop — an interactive session of 60 or 90 minutes on a specific topic, method or activity, open to conference participants.
- Both — you are welcome to combine a booth and a workshop; please indicate this in the registration form.

Scope

Your activity should have a clear link to community psychology or to community practice. It is not a space for commercial promotion of products or services.

When and where

The conference takes place on 23 and 24 November 2026 at the Faculty of Social and Economic Sciences, Comenius University in Bratislava, Mlynské luhy 4. Tuesday 24 November is the main day for organisations. Workshops run in parallel with the main academic programme, in two blocks — a morning block starting at 9:00 and an afternoon block starting at 13:00.

The number of booths is limited (approximately five per day). Registrations are confirmed in the order received; if the capacity of one day is reached, we may offer you a place on the other day and will agree on it with you in advance. We will confirm your day, your time slot and the location of your booth by 9 November 2026.

Deadline

The deadline for registration is 30 September 2026, 23:59 CET. Registration is through the online form only.

Language

Workshops and booth activities may be conducted in Slovak or in English. Please indicate your preference in the form — it helps us to place your session in the programme alongside our international guests.

What the organisers provide

The venue and the space for your booth, free of charge — there is no participation fee for organisations.

A table and two chairs; more chairs, access to an electrical socket and space for a roll-up banner on request.

A room for your workshop, with a projector and a flipchart if you ask for them in the form.

Presentation of your organisation in the conference programme, on the conference website and in our promotional posts before the conference.

Name badges for the people staffing your booth or running your workshop.

What we ask from you

A short description of your organisation (max. 400 characters) and of your activity (max. 800 characters). Both are published exactly as you submit them, so please send them in their final form.

Your logo in print quality (PNG or SVG, at least 1000 px wide), by e-mail after you register.

The names of the people who will run the workshop or staff the booth, as they should appear in the programme.

Your own materials, handouts and any equipment beyond what is listed above.

A phone contact for the conference days, in international format (for example +421 900 123 456).

Workshops — practical details

Duration: 60 or 90 minutes, in the morning block (from 9:00) or the afternoon block (from 13:00).

Participants register for workshops in advance. Registration opens on 15 October 2026 and closes one to two weeks before the conference.

Please state the maximum number of participants in the form, and the minimum number below which you would prefer to cancel.

Please state your target group — students, practitioners, representatives of organisations, or anyone interested.

Booths — practical details

Booths are located in the vestibule, where participants pass during breaks.

Set-up time and the exact location will be sent to you about a week before the conference.

Photographs and recordings

Photographs and video recordings are taken at the conference and used for documentation and promotional purposes. When you register, you may agree or refuse for your own image; please inform your colleagues attending on behalf of your organisation that recordings are taken, and that they may object to being photographed at any time.

If your plans change

If you cannot take part after all, please let us know as soon as possible so that we can offer the place to another organisation.
